

www.savannahfolk.org

First Friday for Folk Music

March 2, 2018

7:30 to 9:30pm

$5 suggested donation at the door

FEATURING

Michael Maddox, Piedmont blues and ballads. Michael has been playing finger-style guitar for over 40 years. For the last 20 years he has concentrated on country blues music that originated in the Piedmont region of North Carolina. Michael is founding member of SFMS and looks forward to returning to the First Friday For Folk Music event at which he has performed many times.

The Unusual Suspects, aka Bill Smith with Judy and Bob Williams.

This impromptu trio will bring us tunes spanning the spectrum from Celtic to folk-rock. Bill Smith is classically trained guitarist and versatile musician whose repertoire includes rock, jazz, Celtic, and traditional music. He also plays mandolin and pennywhistle, and has performed as a studio musician on over a dozen albums. He will be joined by Judy and Bob Williams who have been performing for SFMs going back to its inception three decades ago. They will be joining Bill on hammered dulcimer, guitar, bass, bodhran, and harmonica.

First Presbyterian Church • 520 Washington Avenue • Savannah, GA